[ASEAN Ceramics & ASEAN Stone 2024] The Future of Southeast Asia’s Ceramics and Natural Stone Industry to be Unveiled in Ho Chi Minh City

- Impactful ASEAN Ceramics & Stone Press Conference in Hanoi on 28th October 2024
- Connect with the industry worldwide meeting industry players such as Esmalglass and country pavilions which include China, India, Italy, Germany, Vietnam and Thailand.
- Co-location with ASEAN Stone, the only natural stone exhibition in Southeast Asia

Hanoi (29th October 2024) - ASEAN Ceramics 2024 will return to Vietnam for its 8th edition, happening from 11th to 13th December 2024. Organised by MMI Asia, the regional subsidiary of Messe München GmbH and Vietnam Building Ceramic Association (VIBCA), ASEAN Ceramics 2024 is the leading international exhibition of machinery, technology, and materials for manufacturing white-ware, heavy clay, and advanced ceramics. The exhibition will be co-locating with a debuting exhibition, ASEAN Stone 2024, which involves the participation of international exhibiting companies and brands of machinery, tools, chemicals and materials of the Stone industry.

Following the success of the previous edition in Hanoi, ASEAN Ceramics is set to receive continued endorsement from the Ministry of Construction of Vietnam and Ceramic Industry Club ASEAN (CICA). The exhibition has garnered robust support from both domestic and international government entities, Association of Italian Manufacturers of Machinery and Equipment for Ceramics (ACIMAC), China Council for the Promotion of International Trade (CCPIT) Building Materials Sub-Council, Vietnam Ceramic Consumer Association (VCCA), Vietnam Association for Building Materials (VABM), Vietnam Institute for Building Materials (VIBM), and Saigon Construction and Building Material Association (SACA), Thai Ceramic Society (TCS), Bangladesh Ceramic Manufacturers & Exporters Association (BCMEA), Southern Construction Materials (VLXD-MN), Bach Khoa University (formerly Ho Chi Minh City University of Technology) and Cambodia Stone Quarries Association.

Additionally, the debut of German Pavilion German Pavilion is backed by the German Federal Ministry of Economic Affairs & Climate Action (BMWK), Deutsche Keramische Gesellschaft (DKG), and Association of German Trade Fair (AUMA). The Indian Pavilion is supported by the Federation of Indian Export Organizations (FIEO). The exhibition will also benefit from the partnership of Vietnam Exhibition and Event Services Co., Ltd (VnEES), with advisory support from Asian Exhibition Services (AES). Proudly sponsored by Esmalglass-Itaca Group as the Gold Sponsor, and ACIMAC and Confindustria Marmomacchine as Silver Sponsors, the event also recognizes Minnovation Group as a Bronze Sponsor.

Keeping in mind of “Sustainability and Diversity through Innovation and Collaboration” as the theme of ASEAN Ceramics this year, the exhibition will be strongly highlighting ceramic companies that spearhead the use of latest innovations and technology to create sustainable production methods. The 3-day conference will engage unique and pressing industry trends and worldclass industry speakers will share their insights on topics such as “From Climate Change to Net Zero Society” and “Staying Resilient in Ceramic Industry”, which will foster indefinite growth and innovative ideas to be formed to elevate the ceramics industry to further heights.

Mr. Michael Wilton, CEO & Managing Director of MMI Asia

Michael Wilton, CEO & Managing Director of MMI Asia, stated during the press conference, “The ceramics industry is evolving rapidly, driven by advances in automation and sustainability. This exhibition will highlight the latest in ceramic manufacturing equipment, energy-efficient solutions, and much more. We aim to give visitors the chance to see first-hand how these businesses are reshaping the future of ceramics production.”

ASEAN Ceramics 2024 will be featuring more international pavilions than ever, with China, Italy, Vietnam, Thailand, Germany, and India country pavilions, providing a diverse range of raw materials, machinery and technologies spearheaded by the countries across continents. Ceramic Raw Materials will take center stage with industry giants - Imerys, Mactus Minerals, Sibelco Group, Kaolin EAD, Amberger Kaolinwerke, WA Kaolin, CCS, PURESIL, CrownSinoGroup, MMA Bentonite, and Zircon Industry Association, along with machineries and technologies from Officine Smac, Certech, Tecnoferrari Group, ECT-Kema, NETZSCH, Bruker, Castimo, INMATEC, LK Lab Srl, Eirich, Keramischer Ofenbau and Vitreus to name a few, with biggest local distributors TQT and VITIS Vietnam. The exhibition also provides exclusive three pre-event factory tour on ceramic slabs, sanitaryware, and tiles and trade visitors can look forward to Buyer-Seller meetings, pre-arranged Hosted Buyers Program, Manufacturers' Gallery and many more functions catered to optimise their business opportunities over the next significant three days.

Alongside the 8th edition of ASEAN Ceramics, ASEAN Stone will be introduced for its first edition, co-locating with ASEAN Ceramics. ASEAN Stone is Southeast Asia's Only International Exhibition for the Natural Stone Industry. The exhibition offers buyers, specifiers, and influencers the opportunity to source products, gain design inspiration, and expand their businesses with the latest innovations in equipment, tools, and technology. Both local stone quarries and international natural stone brands, such as Bao Lai Stone, Fortune Stones, and The Square Stone will be featured. The premier event is supported by Confindustria Marmomacchine of Italy, CCPIT Building Sub-Council of China and FIEO of India. Connect with influential players in the stone industry to forge essential business partnerships and expand your reach in the region. Don't miss the ASEAN Stone Conference, where you can gain insights into the latest industry trends, giving your company a competitive advantage. The co-location of the two exhibitions will feature a joint Opening Ceremony on the first day, uniting industry leaders from Ceramics and Stone for a revolutionizing event.

ASEAN Ceramics and ASEAN Stone 2024 are set to be pivotal events in the ceramics and stone industry respectively, propelling innovation, collaboration, and growth.
